Muddy Fleids and Muggy Days Make It Difficult to Acquire Precision and Polish-Vanderbilt's Three Brether Captains-Practice of the Teams.

The time is drawing near when the heen simed will be played, and unless there a change for the better in the weather big teams, the teams looked to to prowide the most finished football, will not attained the degree of excellence they sould have otherwise. For a greater part the season the weather has been wet warm or both, whereas crisp, dry, clear is what is needed for the most the crude and slow football that has been en this fall has been due to the weather are and simple. The first half of the playseason never is expected to produce finished football, for football is a game that is peculiarly one in which apparent lowness attends the masterings of fundachange to the real classy article when the time comes to hit up the speed and put on the polish. Still, there would have been more pepper this season with more life in the sir, and right now when the turning point in development has been the coaches and players generally are dis-appointed at the weather. Next week and the week after will be the main polishing period with hard driving for the players, and clear and cold weather will be welcome and work wonders.

Muddy-and slippery fields interfere with imparting precision and drive to the formations, and muggy weather is not con-ducive to pepper. As the weather condi-tions have been afflicting both the just and the unjust, the various teams have suffered about equally. If it should rain on the day of the big games nobody will be pandicapped for want of practice in handling a wet ball. Out in Chicago Coach Stagg and his brain squad are trying the effect ental suggestion to scare the rain gods

There's one thing about Yale and Princeton, they stand or fall by their own coaching. Unlike Harvard, they don't feel called on go outside their own gridiron alumni coaches. Pennsylvania, too, has depended on her own graduates for coaches since the Woodruff days, and Cornell has come to rely on graduate coaching entirely. However, if Harvard must get an outside coach, she couldn't have gotten a better one than Lieut. Graves. Graves was an exceptionally good tackle when he was at West Point and he is a good man to inject dash and vim into a sluggish player. He r and brought about a big improvement

The Fordham squad was put through a very spirited practice yesterday by Coach Howard Gargan. Considerable attention was paid to drop kicking, a department in which Quarterback Francis Gargan is shewing improvement. Coffey and Scanlon ware tried at punting, and each averaged about 50 yards. At place kicking Capt. Lee Ritzpatrick excelled.

Two twenty minute scrimmages with the seruls formed the most vigorous portion of the practice. The varsity played with great dash and scored three touchdowns in each half. White got two, one on a sixty-yard run around left end, and the other from an onside kick by Walsh. Siskind, Coffey, Scanlon and Wilks secured the other touchdowns. McCaffrey was not out for practice, as his shoulder is rather badly injured. Geary was kept out of the scrimmages on account of a swollen ankle.

Despite the bar condition of the athletic field Coach tricott has spared no one in an effort to put the New York University eleven in winning form for the Wresleyan game on election day. Yesterday the varsity lined up against Webb Academy for a half hour's scrimmage. The work of the squad surprised every one. The line held Webb well and the backs gained at will by straight line formatioms. Newins especially has developed into a good man for quarterback runs. He showed remarkable speed and ability to get through a broken field. Gorse played a star game at left half. Both he and Ellis, a freshman who is a second choice for right half, have helped in late games by their excellent runting. Capt. Young leads the team from right end, He is supported at the left end of the line by Hayden.

Synacuse, N. Y., Oct 29.—The varsity used up for its second scrimmage of the week yesterday. Banks and Stein are again in the game, although the former's ankle is not in the best of condition. This time the freshmen were the opponents. The varsity showed fine formand the youngsters weren't able to do much. Coach Jones gave the men a rest on Monday. On Tuesday the scrubs took the brunt of the scrimmage and fell easy victims to the haevy line. Stein, who was not in the haevy line. Stein, who was not in the haevy line in the stadium on Saturday, meets williams in the stadium on Saturday.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 29.—The Prince-on varsity struggled against the scrubs a vain effort to score to-day. Dillon ept the Tigers within the limit of straight ootball, and the backs hurled themselves the opposing line time and again with feetball, and the backs hurled themselves at the opposing line time and again with little gain. A wonderful back field trio stacked up against the varsity during the second part of the scrimmace. Jim McCormick, '08, at fullback with Eddie Harlan, '00, and Eddie Hart. '02, on the halves is a sufficiently powerful combination to rend any line asunder. Harlan worked the ends with considerable success, while McCormick and Hart banged the centre and tackles for long distances.

and Hart banged the centre and tackles for long distances.

This scrub combination carried the ball from the 40 yard line to the yarsity's 1 yard mark, where the regulars stiffened their defence and held for downs. McCrohan at fullback showed some improvement this afternoon and played a fine secondary defence game. Bredemus was fast and strong on tackling. A new man, Dale, was promoted from the scrubs to the varsity this afternoon. He put up a rattling good game at end. The Tigers will leave Princeton for New York to-morrow afternoon, remaining in Manhattan over night. In the morning they leave for West Point.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 29.—Harvard's football practice was somewhat lighter this afternoon. The second got the ball and was told to try out the varsity defence, which proved weak. Then the varsity took the ball and Burr tried a lot of kicks from placement from behind the line of scrimmage, while kennard tried drops. The varsity held very poorly, as a result of which most of the kicks were blocked. Burr and Kennard, however, each managed to score once. The varsity was sent away on the offence for a few rushes, but the attack lacked power. Cutler tried two forward passes, but they were both smothered by the second. Burrage of the second team picked up the ball on one occasion and was oft for a touchdown when Haushton called him back. After the scrimmage the back were given a long drill at catching punts kicked by Haughton and Daly. All clothes. The return of West to the squad is an unlooked for piece of good luck.

New Haven, Oct. 29.—Ted Coy returned to New Haven to-day after a visit to Dewitt Cochrane, up the Hudson, and is back in condition again. Coy had been working too hard and was slightly overtrained. To-day he was not in the lineup, but will be to-morrow, and will play against the Amherst Agricultural College on Baturday. The first and sorub teams lined up against each other to-day and the scrubs were unable to make headway. Brides was in great form at line plunging, and Holt, who played in the other halfback position, was good in carrying the ball around the end. Brides and Holt scored early in the practice game. Later Johnson, who had taken Blingham's place at quarterback, made a forward pass to Nædele, who was playing end, and Nædele made s forty, yard run for a touchdown. This was the end of the practice.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Drijl was dispensed with for the members of the football team to-day, but the rest of the cadets went through the usual routine. The major portion of the work was signal practice and running through formations. The short lineup that followed was full of snap. The varsity scored one touchdown, Baebr making the score after the scrubs had been rushed off their feet for forty yards. It has been decided to use Kern as quarterback in the Princeton game instead of Wood, who came out of the hospital to-day and limps badly. Chamberlin also will be absent from the Army lineup on Saturday and Baehr will play fullback.

ITHACA, N. V., Oct. 29.—Fearful of a defeat at the hands of Pennsylvania State on Saturday the Cornell coaches abandoned the scrimmage this afternoon so that no more varsity players could be hurt. Three of the best men on the team will probably be out of the game on Saturday and some of the others are not in the best condition. Although Caldwell, quarterback, and Shearer, halfback, were on the field in uniform, they did not line up with the regulars and are not likely to play against the State eleven. Bell, the big guard, who is suffering with a bad knee, was in the lineup, but is not expected to be strong enough to play on Saturday. Gardner played quarterback to-day and Tydeman and Hoffman played at the halves. At the ends Coach Larkin worked Huriburt and McArthur first and later Halsey and Crosby. All four men will be used on Saturday. Leventry has finally been located at left tackle, Cosgrove going back to his old place at left guard. Wight will play centre. If Bell cannot stand the pace at right guard Kelley, captain of the scrub team, will go in in preference to McCollum or Corman.

ANNAPODIS, Md., Oct. 29.—The coaching staff of the Navy team, upon the advice of Trainer McMaster, decided to keep the football squad indoors this afternoon rather than take the chance of colds and stiffness from the bleak weather conditions and downpour of rain which were going on here.

from the bleak weather county of the bleak warsity football team held its final practice on Franklin Field this afternoon in a driving rain before its departure for Pittsburg to-morrow morning, where it will play the Carnegie Tech on Saturday afternoon. As the field was in a deplorable condition, due to the heavy rain, the coaches sent the men in after an hour's fast signal practice. The coaches took the opportunity to give Capt. Hollenback and Means a chance to see what they could do in the kicking department with a wet and slippery ball. Both men did remarkably well considering punting the soggy pigskin on an average of fifty yards on their kicks. It was announced to-day that Lamberton, the husky guard, would start the game in the place of Pike, and Means would take Reagan's place at halfback, with Hollenback in his regular position at fullback.

South Field 16 to 0.

Despite a steady downfall of rain 1,000 persons saw the Columbia juniors defeat the sophomores by the score of 16 to 0 in championship on South Field yesterday afternoon. Both teams played hard, straight championship on South Field yesterday afternoon. Both teams played hard, straight football, and there were enough spectacular plays to show that the Columbia boys have the right sort of material for varsity football. The proceeds were given to the crew management for the paying off of the deficit, and they amounted to about $150.

The sophomores were slightly outweighed and their light line could do nothing with the heavy plunging of the junior backs. Phelan, the junior right halfback, played particularly fast football and scored two touchdowns, one after a run of fifty yards. The juniors did not try either the forward pass or the onside kick.

The seniors and freshmen will line up this afternoon for the third, game of the series. The lineup:

Juniors. Positions. Sophomores. Wardlaw Right tackle Grim Steinschneider Right guard. Cook after Heard. Cole strobel. Left tackle Kinney Corton. Left end. Lommel Landon Quarterback. It was announced last week at Cumberland, Md., that a bill is to be formulated by the State Commission on Automobiles appointed by Gov. Crothers and presented to the next Legislature in which it is proposed to raise $45,000 a year in Maryland to pay for the roads by imposing a tax on automobiles. Motor cars are to be taxed from $10 to $25 a year, according to their horse-power. Two thousand high powered machines such as would pay $15 would at once provide $40,000, and as there are now 2.250 automobiles in the State the remaining $25,000 would be easily raised. At present the tax on automobiles is only $3 and the license is perpetual.

The commission is composed of Senator I. Charles Linthicum, chairman; Senator Harry E. Baker and Senator W. E. Claggett, Representatives Allen C. Girdwood, Matthew H. Gill and Charles Jackson, and Sherlock Swann, Walter B. Brooks and John Waters. Gov. Crothers stated that the work of building the $5,000,000 model roads for Maryland would begin as soon as spring weather makes it possible.

W. O. Griffiths, chairman of the routes, maps and signs committee of the Automobile Club of Philadelphia, is now preparing a set of route maps and books for members of that organization. The new edition will be an improved-successor to the reute book and sectional map mow used by the members of the club. New roads have been examined and listed, short cuts discovered and their condition noted and all the roads from Baltimore to the Delaware Water Gap and from the New Jersey coast to Lancaster and Pottsville have been accurately put down by the club's representatives.

The book is expected to be ready for the members about the middle of December. Local routes will be given in detail, while a few long runs will be outlined, so that the book will be doubly valuable. The feature of the new book will be the maps it contains. These books, which can be had only by club members, will give them the best set of references ever laid out for Philadelphia and vicinity.

YALE EIGHTS TO ROW. First Varsity Will Compete in Regatta on Saturday.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 29 .- For the first time in recent years the Yale varsity eight will race at the fall regatta, which will be held in the harbor on Saturday, according to an announcement made to-night by Coach Kennedy. Yale oarsmen and others who are watching the experiments of John Kennedy of putting a 185 pound stroke in the boat will have an opportunity to see what Capt. Howe can do in his new seat. Last year Howe rowed at No. 6.

To compete against the varity first eight Coach Kennedy has picked two other varity crews, the second to be stroked by Wallace, who stroked the four oared last year. The third eight will be stroked by Livingston, the stroke of the freshman crew last year.

There are available this year only two of the old men besides Howe for the varsity eight, Hunt who rowed 4 last year and Rice who sat at 8.

More bad weather marred the racing at Jamaica yesterday. The crowd was reduced to about 1,000 regulars, who were busy hunting for mudlarks all the after-noon. The Montpeller Stable won two races with Monfort and May River. Notter had the mount on Monfort in the all aged handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth: Tony Bonero and Question Mark showed the way for nearly seven furlongs, where both quit. GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK. R. T. Wilson, Jr., Only Jockey Club Member Ila ing at Jamaica.

R. T. Wilson, Jr., is the only member of the Jockey Club who is racing a stable at Jamaica. Mr. Wilson owns the Montpeller Stable, and his loyalty to the turf was rewarded yesterday when Monfort and May River won two races for him. Mr. Wilson has always operated a big string of horses and the public has never lost confidence in them. Monfort has developed into apretty fair handicap horse and is about the best in the string. May River has run in many races this year, but it was not until the last race yesterday that the son of Watercress graduated from the maiden two-year-old class.

The Keene castoff, Transvaal, a son of Commando, now owned by Doc Street, should have won the second race. He was racing on the outside of a big field with Dolly Spanker, the pacemaker, when sud-denly the latter burst a blood vessel and swung wide. As he did so Transvaal was carried out so that Saracinesca, in the middle of the track, went to the front. After that the Commando gelding, straightened die of the track, went to the front. After that the Commando gelding, straightened out, closed with wonderful gameness until Saracinesca was hard pressed to win by less than a length. Dolly Spanker, owned by Mr. Wilson, has been racing for five years on the local tracks. He was bred by Mr. Keene, but was sold as a two-year-old. When he pulled up after the race it was thought that his racing days were at an end. Dave Johnson's Milford not only won the third race but also hung up a new track record of 2:37 3-5 for a mile and a half, in spite of the heavy going. The best previous time for Jamaica was 2:40, made last October by William Gerst's old campaigner Brancas. Milford picked up a 'couple of hundred dollars for Johnson, but there was no betting on him at all for the rease; that the "memory brokers" quoted prohibitive figures. Winning Star, picked up $25 in third money for Bill Daly, who was sure of the coin because there were only three starters.

Merry Gift, once owned by August Belmont, was a hot favorite in the first race, but though the field was small, she got away poorly, then received a bump or two, and after that refused to run a yard. Opal, the winner, was one of the keene two-year-olds in the spring, but was sold to George F. Johnson, who has been trying to put her over the blate ever since.

Thomas Welsh, the trainer of the Newcastle Stable, who took the stalled in Adam to France several weeks ago, is on his way home to remain permanently.

It is expected that colin, Ballot, Priscillian and other horses belonging to Messrs, Keene, Belmont, Duryea and 'flitchock will arrive in England on the steamship Minnehals to the the west of the work with a red to the work the Whitten was a sea the starter with the winter of the went was the west the well and the rease.

wilt arrive in England on the steamship Minnehala to-day.
Fancy, the Worcester filly that Frank Weir bought at the Whitney sale a month ago, should have won the firth event in the opinion of many good judges. She was crowded back just after the start, but she was coming like a whiriwind at the end and would have natical queen Marguerite in another stride.

The Metropolitan Jockey Club gave away $1,900 in added money yesterday. The other expenses were probably $1,500 more. The receipts were estimated at $500, if that. There are only three days more at Jamaica and all of them will, probably show heavy losses.

Walter Miller has signed a new contract to ride for T. H. Williams in California this winter at a salary of $1,500 a month. Miller is at the Bay, but will leave for the Coast shortly. If he can ride at 110 pounds he will be doing well, as he has grown rapidly the last sesson. will be doing well, as he has grown rapidly the last season.

After a long absence from the races Hallfax, once a star sprinter, started in the second race in the colors of John Shields. He had received a special preparation and a good sized coup had been planned. But after showing a flash of his old speed he suddenly exploded. Halifax was owned at different times by E. R. Thomas and the late Alexander Shields. He won many sprints with big burdens and was one of the fastest horses in training two years ago.

Andrews Wins Columbia Tennis Cham-

The Columbia University singles lawn tennis championship was won yesterday by W. S. Andrews, 'Ii, who defeated A. S. Moses, '09, after four hard fought matches by the score of 6-0, 4-8, 6-4, 0-4 on the South Field courts. Andrews was captain of the Cambridge University lawn tennis team two years ago and he is now taking a law course at Columbia. He played a forcing cross court game and Moses was unable to return his swift overhand service. There was a large gallery of students present at the match and Andrews was given an ovation when he won the last point and the championship.

Nelsen and McFarland Matched?

It was reported yesterday that a match had been made between Battling Nelson and Packy McFarland to fight for the lightweight championship of the world in Callfornia on New Year's Day. McFarland's manager received a telegram yesterday from the Coast to this effect and said that under the terms he submitted to Nelson's to receive 23 per cent. of the gross receipts, win, loss of defeated A. S. Andrews.

Prices Low, but Prominent Society Persons the Buyers. Prices at the sale of boxes for the National Horse Show yesterday were not high, but the people to buy them were very prominent in society. There was a slim attendance at the sale, which was held in the Garden Theatre, with Frank Clark as auctioneer. It was no fault of the gavel swinger that the prices were not higher, for he was as eloquent as a Depew or an Easton. Among the bidders for arena boxes was Tom McBride, the theatrical ticket specutaking box No. 37. A few years ago—ten to be exact—W. Seward Webb paid $780 for the same box. The upset price; that is, the actual price for the week, was $150, and there were not year many bidders over and there were not very many bidders over that figure.

At the sale were James T. Hyde, Charles
